

POEM

Just like atom I was born,
Just like atom I have nucleus,
Just like atom, they say I am from star,
If I die another I will be born,
Can you imagine this cycle?
Even the blood in my veins,
From the star it originates,
Half of me is made of iron,
Half of me is made of water'
A part of me is made of dust,
Another part of me is made of elements,
What a combination of the universe I am made of!
This is just but truth made clear by the science.
